

Directive no. 1225, dated 11/9/2004

Digital Library of UFU has been created with the purpose of establishing and maintaining the digital collection of technical-scientific and intellectual production developed within the scope of this University. The Library's Board will be in charge of the Digital Library's administration and organization, with the Data Processing Board's support regarding computing issues, and with the Undergraduation, Graduation and Extension Dean's Office support regarding the collection and availability of documents in digital format. The Digital Library must contain UFU's intellectual and technical-scientific production that will be available in electronic format, including: theses, dissertations, journals, articles, books, photographs, illustrations, and other documents. The Copyright for the material included in the Digital Library will be respected. The Digital Library will be under the coordination of the commission appointed by Directive R n° 1.218/2004, until its effective implementation. This Directive shall take effect on this date.
